01 Introduction

The human being is a social being, who communicates and interacts, generating an individual and collective identity, which leads to the configuration of a culture that survives, transforms and evolves. In this scenario, changes arise such as the feminist movement, globalization or the media that influence the population. Therefore, from the field of sociology, the understanding of this reality requires researchers and professionals in this area with a global vision, but at the same time critical of the sociological theories of the twentieth century. In response to this need, TECH has created this program, which over the course of 6 months, delves deeper into the sociology of communication and culture. For this purpose, it provides students with attractive teaching material, in a 100% online academic format, which can be accessed comfortably from any electronic device with an Internet connection.

Enroll in this Postgraduate Diploma and delve into sociological perspectives on culture and communication through attractive didactic resources"

tech 06 | Introduction

The field of sociology and the understanding of society would not be possible without the studies and analyses carried out by such outstanding authors as Castell, Appadurai, Focault, Stuart Hall or John Fiske. Their vision has greatly influenced the understanding of concepts such as globalization, the understanding of cultural relations or the interaction of people.

Furthermore, the critical nature and analytical skills of sociology professionals make these profiles increasingly in demand by both public and private entities, who seek to provide new solutions and approaches to the major social, economic, political and cultural changes arising from development. In view of this reality, TECH has created this Postgraduate Diploma in Communication, Culture and Society, which provides the student with essential knowledge about the sociological theories of the twentieth century, the popularization of communication or the theoretical foundations and characteristics that define the identity of the sociology of culture.

To this end, this academic institution has designed a syllabus with a theoreticalpractical approach, which students can access comfortably at any time of the day, from a computer, tablet or cell phone with Internet connection. This way, and through innovative didactic resources (video summaries, detailed videos, diagrams), reflective readings and case studies, the specialist will achieve a much more attractive way to delve into the studies that address the effects of communication in society.

The professional has before them a quality Postgraduate Diploma, taught in a 100% online format, which gives them flexibility. In fact, students do not have classes with fixed schedules and have the freedom to distribute the course load according to their needs. An ideal academic option for those who wish to combine a university program with the most demanding responsibilities.

This Postgraduate Diploma in Communication, Culture and Society contains the most complete and up-to-date program on the market. The most important features include:

04 Methodology

This academic program offers students a different way of learning. Our methodology uses a cyclical learning approach: Relearning.

This teaching system is used, for example, in the most prestigious medical schools in the world, and major publications such as the New England Journal of Medicine have considered it to be one of the most effective.

Discover Relearning, a system that abandons conventional linear learning, to take you through cyclical teaching systems: a way of learning that has proven to be extremely effective, especially in subjects that require memorization"

Case Study to contextualize all content

Our program offers a revolutionary approach to developing skills and knowledge. Our goal is to strengthen skills in a changing, competitive, and highly demanding environment.

At TECH, you will experience a learning methodology that is shaking the foundations of traditional universities around the world"

You will have access to a learning system based on repetition, with natural and progressive teaching throughout the entire syllabus.

Methodology | 19 tech

The student will learn to solve complex situations in real business environments through collaborative activities and real cases.

A learning method that is different and innovative

This TECH program is an intensive educational program, created from scratch, which presents the most demanding challenges and decisions in this field, both nationally and internationally. This methodology promotes personal and professional growth, representing a significant step towards success. The case method, a technique that lays the foundation for this content, ensures that the most current economic, social and professional reality is taken into account.

Our program prepares you to face new challenges in uncertain environments and achieve success in your career"

The case method has been the most widely used learning system among the world's leading Humanities schools for as long as they have existed. The case method was developed in 1912 so that law students would not only learn the law based on theoretical content. It consisted of presenting students with real-life, complex situations for them to make informed decisions and value judgments on how to resolve them. In 1924, Harvard adopted it as a standard teaching method.

What should a professional do in a given situation? This is the question we face in the case method, an action-oriented learning method. Throughout the program, the studies will be presented with multiple real cases. They will have to combine all their knowledge and research, and argue and defend their ideas and decisions.

tech 20 | Methodology

Relearning Methodology

TECH effectively combines the Case Study methodology with a 100% online learning system based on repetition, which combines 8 different teaching elements in each lesson.

We enhance the Case Study with the best 100% online teaching method: Relearning.

In 2019, we obtained the best learning results of all online universities in the world.

At TECH you will learn using a cutting-edge methodology designed to train the executives of the future. This method, at the forefront of international teaching, is called Relearning.

Our university is the only one in the world authorized to employ this successful method. In 2019, we managed to improve our students' overall satisfaction levels (teaching quality, quality of materials, course structure, objectives...) based on the best online university indicators.

Methodology | 21 tech

In our program, learning is not a linear process, but rather a spiral (learn, unlearn, forget, and re-learn). Therefore, we combine each of these elements concentrically. With this methodology we have trained more than 650,000 university graduates with unprecedented success in fields as diverse as biochemistry, genetics, surgery, international law, management skills, sports science, philosophy, law, engineering, journalism, history, markets, and financial instruments. All this in a highly demanding environment, where the students have a strong socio-economic profile and an average age of 43.5 years.

Relearning will allow you to learn with less effort and better performance, involving you more in your training, developing a critical mindset, defending arguments, and contrasting opinions: a direct equation for success.

From the latest scientific evidence in the field of neuroscience, not only do we know how to organize information, ideas, images and memories, but we know that the place and context where we have learned something is fundamental for us to be able to remember it and store it in the hippocampus, to retain it in our long-term memory.

In this way, and in what is called neurocognitive context-dependent e-learning, the different elements in our program are connected to the context where the individual carries out their professional activity.
