Introduction

The rise of relational problems and conflicts in couples has generated a growing demand for professionals specialized in Couples Therapy. According to data from the American Psychological Association (APA), about 50% of couples experience significant difficulties at some point in their relationship. In order to address this need, TECH has designed a program aimed at professionals in Psychology, who seek to be up-to-date in the latest advances in intervention techniques in couple dynamics, fostering communication, understanding and conflict resolution. The program is taught 100% online, using the innovative pedagogical methodology of Relearning, and provides flexibility in the organization of academic resources, allowing students to adapt their learning to their own needs and schedules.

With this Postgraduate Certificate you will master the different approaches to Couples Therapy and the specific tools to address issues such as conflict, infidelity and jealousy”

Nowadays, couples face unique challenges due to the impact of stress and changing expectations on their relationships. A syllabus published in the Journal of Marriage and Family indicates that work stress, in particular, can negatively affect the quality of couples' relationships and increase the likelihood of conflict and breakup. Faced with these challenges, it is essential to have professionals trained in Couples Therapy who can help couples face and overcome the difficulties that may arise.

In this context, TECH has designed the Postgraduate Certificate in Couples Therapy which offers students the opportunity to bring up-to-date their academic foundations and specialized skills in psychological intervention in couple relationships. Throughout the program, students will analyze the formation and evolution of relationships, delving into attraction, falling in love and love. In addition, they will delve into attachment theory and how it influences couple relationships, as well as the different approaches to couple therapy and specific tools to address issues such as conflict, infidelity and jealousy.

This program is taught 100% online, which facilitates students' access to high quality learning without the need to travel. In addition, the Relearning methodology used in this program promotes active and participatory learning, encouraging the construction of knowledge through interaction and critical reflection. This pedagogical model allows students to review, question and transform their previous ideas and beliefs, achieving more meaningful and long-lasting learning.

This program also offers flexibility in organizing academic resources, which means that students can adapt their learning process to their own needs and schedules. With a wide variety of syllabus materials, practical activities and discussion forums, students can personalize their educational experience, thereby improving learning efficiency and satisfaction.

This Postgraduate Certificate in Couples Therapy contains the most complete and up-to-date program on the market. The most important features include:

05 Methodology

This academic program offers students a different way of learning. Our methodology uses a cyclical learning approach: Relearning. This teaching system is used, for example, in the most prestigious medical schools in the world, and major publications such as the New England Journal of Medicine have considered it to be one of the most effective.

Discover Relearning, a system that abandons conventional linear learning, to take you through cyclical teaching systems: a way of learning that has proven to be extremely effective, especially in subjects that require memorization"

At TECH we use the Case Method

What should a professional do in a given situation? Throughout the program, students will face multiple simulated clinical cases, based on real patients, in which they will have to do research, establish hypotheses, and ultimately resolve the situation. There is an abundance of scientific evidence on the effectiveness of the method. Specialists learn better, faster, and more sustainably over time.

With TECH the psychologist experiences a way of learning that is shaking the foundations of traditional universities around the world.

According to Dr. Gérvas, the clinical case is the annotated presentation of a patient, or group of patients, which becomes a "case", an example or model that illustrates some peculiar clinical component, either because of its teaching power or because of its uniqueness or rarity. It is essential that the case is based on current professional life, trying to recreate the real conditions in the psychologist's professional practice.

Did you know that this method was developed in 1912, at Harvard, for law students? The case method consisted of presenting students with real-life, complex situations for them to make decisions and justify their decisions on how to solve them. In 1924, Harvard adopted it as a standard teaching method”

The effectiveness of the method is justified by four fundamental achievements:

1. Psychologists who follow this method not only master the assimilation of concepts, but also develop their mental capacity by means of exercises to evaluate real situations and apply their knowledge.
2. Learning is solidly translated into practical skills that allow the psychologist to better integrate knowledge into clinical practice.
3. Ideas and concepts are understood more efficiently, given that the example situations are based on real-life.
4. Students like to feel that the effort they put into their studies is worthwhile. This then translates into a greater interest in learning and more time dedicated to working on the course.

Relearning Methodology

At TECH we enhance the case method with the best 100% online teaching methodology available: Relearning.

Our university is the first in the world to combine the study of clinical cases with a 100% online learning system based on repetition, combining a minimum of 8 different elements in each lesson, which is a real revolution compared to the simple study and analysis of cases.

The psychologist will learn through real cases and by solving complex situations in simulated learning environments. These simulations are developed using state-of-the-art software to facilitate immersive learning.

At the forefront of world teaching, the Relearning method has managed to improve the overall satisfaction levels of professionals who complete their studies, with respect to the quality indicators of the best online university (Columbia University).

This methodology has trained more than 150,000 psychologists with unprecedented success in all clinical specialties. Our pedagogical methodology is developed in a highly competitive environment, with a university student body with a strong socioeconomic profile and an average age of 43.5 years old.

Relearning will allow you to learn with less effort and better performance, involving you more in your training, developing a critical mindset, defending arguments, and contrasting opinions: a direct equation for success.

In our program, learning is not a linear process, but rather a spiral (learn, unlearn, forget, and re-learn). Therefore, we combine each of these elements concentrically.

The overall score obtained by our learning system is 8.01, according to the highest international standards.

This program offers the best educational material, prepared with professionals in mind:

Study Material

All teaching material is produced by the specialists who teach the course, specifically for the course, so that the teaching content is highly specific and precise.

These contents are then adapted in audiovisual format, to create the TECH online working method. All this, with the latest techniques that offer high-quality pieces in each and every one of the materials that are made available to the student.

Latest Techniques and Procedures on Video

TECH introduces students to the latest techniques, to the latest educational advances, to the forefront of current psychology. All of this in direct contact with students and explained in detail so as to aid their assimilation and understanding. And best of all, you can watch the videos as many times as you like.

Interactive Summaries

The TECH team presents the contents attractively and dynamically in multimedia lessons that include audio, videos, images, diagrams, and concept maps in order to reinforce knowledge.

This exclusive educational system for presenting multimedia content was awarded by Microsoft as a "European Success Story".

Additional Reading

Recent articles, consensus documents and international guidelines, among others. In TECH's virtual library, students will have access to everything they need to complete their course.
