Introduction

The Humanitarian Action carried out by NGOs and other public and private organizations working in the field of International Cooperation seeks to help those regions suffering from armed conflicts or natural disasters, but also focuses on the prevention of these situations and the protection of Human Rights, as well as the provision of the necessary goods to ensure the survival of the population. If the professionals want to obtain superior information in this field, they should not think twice and join TECH's community of students.

Humanitarian action is of great value in helping regions with extreme problems to recover and be able to continue their development in an autonomous manner"

Humanitarian Action is a fundamental labor to help communities in extreme poverty, suffering from war conflicts or natural disasters to recover and achieve, little by little, to improve their living conditions and a self-sufficient development. However, in order to achieve this goal, it is essential to be able to count on external aid to provide them with basic goods and services, which are often deficient or even non-existent.

This program combines basic knowledge in Humanitarian Action and International Law, tools that allow the development worker to seek to improve the performance of their work in those fields that people and communities demand, guide them to change and focus them on the present situation through the cooperation tools and resources. In this way, this program pays special attention to research methods in Humanitarian Action and International Law from a January Perspective and the methodologies needed to manage public policies and social change. It provides insight into the system and the evolution of cooperation, as well as the phenomenon of human mobility.

As a new aspect, it introduces the student to the study of the instruments of cooperation and to the knowledge of the actors that make up the international cooperation scenario. It also allows to acquire competence in the handling of the most relevant international regulations in the field of cooperation, focusing on the gender perspective, with the aim of achieving a more egalitarian world in which men and women have the same rights.

In addition, as it is a 100% online specialization, the Psychologist will be able to combine the study of this comprehensive program with the rest of their daily obligations, choosing at all times where and when to study. A high-level program that will take these professionals to the top of their field.

This Postgraduate Diploma in Humanitarian Action and International Law with Gender Perspective contains the most complete and up-to-date program on the market. The most important features include:

Methodology

This program offers students a different way of learning. Our methodology follows a cyclical learning process: Relearning.

This teaching system is used, for example, in the most prestigious medical schools in the world, and major publications such as the New England Journal of Medicine have considered it to be one of the most effective.

Discover Relearning, a system that abandons conventional linear learning to take you through cyclical teaching systems: a way of learning that has proven to be extremely effective, especially in subjects that require memorization”

At TECH, we use the Case Method

What should a professional do in a given situation? Throughout the program, students will face multiple simulated clinical cases, based on real patients, in which they will have to do research, establish hypotheses, and ultimately resolve the situation. There is an abundance of scientific evidence on the effectiveness of the method. Specialists learn better, faster, and more sustainably over time.

With TECH the psychologist experiences a way of learning that is shaking the foundations of traditional universities around the world.

According to Dr. Gervas, the clinical case is the annotated presentation of a patient, or group of patients, which becomes a “case”, an example or model that illustrates some peculiar clinical component, either because of its teaching power or because of its uniqueness or rarity. It is essential that the case is based on current professional life, trying to recreate the real conditions in the psychologist's professional practice.

Did you know that this method was developed in 1912, at Harvard, for law students? The case method consisted of presenting students with real-life, complex situations for them to make decisions and justify their decisions on how to solve them. In 1924, Harvard adopted it as a standard teaching method.

The effectiveness of the method is justified by four fundamental achievements:

1. Psychologists who follow this method not only master the assimilation of concepts, but also develop their mental capacity by means of exercises to evaluate real situations and apply their knowledge.
2. Learning is solidly translated into practical skills that allow the psychologist to better integrate knowledge into clinical practice.
3. Ideas and concepts are understood more efficiently, given that the example situations are based on real-life.
4. Students like to feel that the effort they put into their studies is worthwhile. This then translates into a greater interest in learning and more time dedicated to working on the course.

Relearning Methodology

At TECH we enhance the case method with the best 100% online teaching methodology available: Relearning.

Our university is the first in the world to combine the study of clinical cases with a 100% online learning system based on repetition, combining a minimum of 8 different elements in each lesson, which is a real revolution compared to the simple study and analysis of cases.

The psychologist will learn through real cases and by solving complex situations in simulated learning environments.

These simulations are developed using state-of-the-art software to facilitate immersive learning.

At the forefront of world teaching, the Relearning method has managed to improve the overall satisfaction levels of professionals who complete their studies, with respect to the quality indicators of the best online university (Columbia University).

This methodology has enabled more than 150,000 psychologists with unprecedented success in all clinical specialties. Our educational methodology is developed in a highly competitive environment, with a university student body with a strong socioeconomic profile and an average age of 43.5 years old.

Relearning will allow you to learn with less effort and better performance, involving you more in your education, developing a critical mindset, defending arguments, and contrasting opinions: a direct equation for success.

In our program, learning is not a linear process, but rather a spiral (learn, unlearn, forget, and re-learn). Therefore, we combine each of these elements concentrically.

The overall score obtained by our learning system is 8.01, according to the highest international standards.

This program offers the best educational material, prepared with professionals in mind:

Study Material

All teaching material is produced by the specialists who teach the course, specifically for the course, so that the teaching content is highly specific and precise.

These contents are then applied to the audiovisual format, to create the TECH online working method. All this, with the latest techniques that offer high quality pieces in each and every one of the materials that are made available to the student.

Latest Techniques and Procedures on Video

TECH introduces students to the latest techniques, to the latest educational advances, to the forefront of current psychology. All of this in direct contact with students and explained in detail so as to aid their assimilation and understanding. And best of all, you can watch the videos as many times as you like.

Interactive Summaries

The TECH team presents the contents attractively and dynamically in multimedia lessons that include audio, videos, images, diagrams, and concept maps in order to reinforce knowledge.

This exclusive educational system for presenting multimedia content was awarded by Microsoft as a "European Success Story".

Additional Reading

Recent articles, consensus documents and international guidelines, among others. In TECH's virtual library, students will have access to everything they need to complete their course.
