Welcome

French is the second most studied language in the world, only behind English. This demonstrates the high interest in learning this language, which not only opens up job opportunities, but also allows access to one of the most influential cultures and histories in the world. Understanding the French language also means entering into the language of Jules Verne or Édith Piaf. This TECH Postgraduate Certificate contains all the necessary keys so that students, through practical exercises and multiple didactic resources, can acquire a basic level in the French language.

Presentation video

Learn the language of great artists and historical figures, allowing you to integrate into countries as diverse as France, Nigeria, Senegal or Canada"

Introduction

For the preparation of this Language Course's content and materials, TECH has gathered to a team of teachers who are native in the language, which provides an added value to their teaching. Students will find a variety of exercises with which to practice and gradually improve their grammar, vocabulary and pronunciation, reaching an A1 Level as established by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

You won't go wrong studying one of the most-learned languages in the world, with the possibility of developing your career in the most developing countries in Africa

Give your CV a noticeable quality boost by including an additional language that is highly valued in industries such as haute couture or aeronautics

> " It is proven that learning languages increases your intelligence. Learning a foreign language strengthens the brain's neural networks"

Is it Important to Obtain a Language Certificate?

In today's competitive world, speaking other languages is a key part of our modern culture, helping us to expand our knowledge and interact with people from other parts of the world, helpING us to learn about the traditions of other countries, establish friendships or conduct business.

However, simply knowing foreign languages is not enough in modern society. Nowadays, students must have an official certificate that accredits and recognizes their proficiency in a given language. In fact, many schools, universities and companies only accept candidates who have an official qualification based on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR).

" The ability to communicate effectively in another language, and accredit it with an CEFR qualification, is an essential requirement for academic and professional development. TECH helps you achieve it with intensive 100% CEFR training"

TECH Technological University

The Common European Framework of Reference for Languages is the only system that recognizes and accredits the student's level. Although there are other certification systems, these come from private institutions and are, therefore, not valid. The CEFR establishes a single criterion to determine the difficulty of the courses and awards certificates that are recognized throughout the European Union.

At TECH, we offer you the only intensive Language Course to obtain your official certificate based 100% on the CEFR, the only system recognized and accepted throughout Europe.

Learn French and make the most of it by accrediting your level with a certificate based on the CEFR

Other private language certification systems require students to periodically recertify their level of proficiency. TECH's CEFR certificate is valid for life

You will have a comprehensive and complete syllabus at your disposal in all the competences of CEFR Level A1"
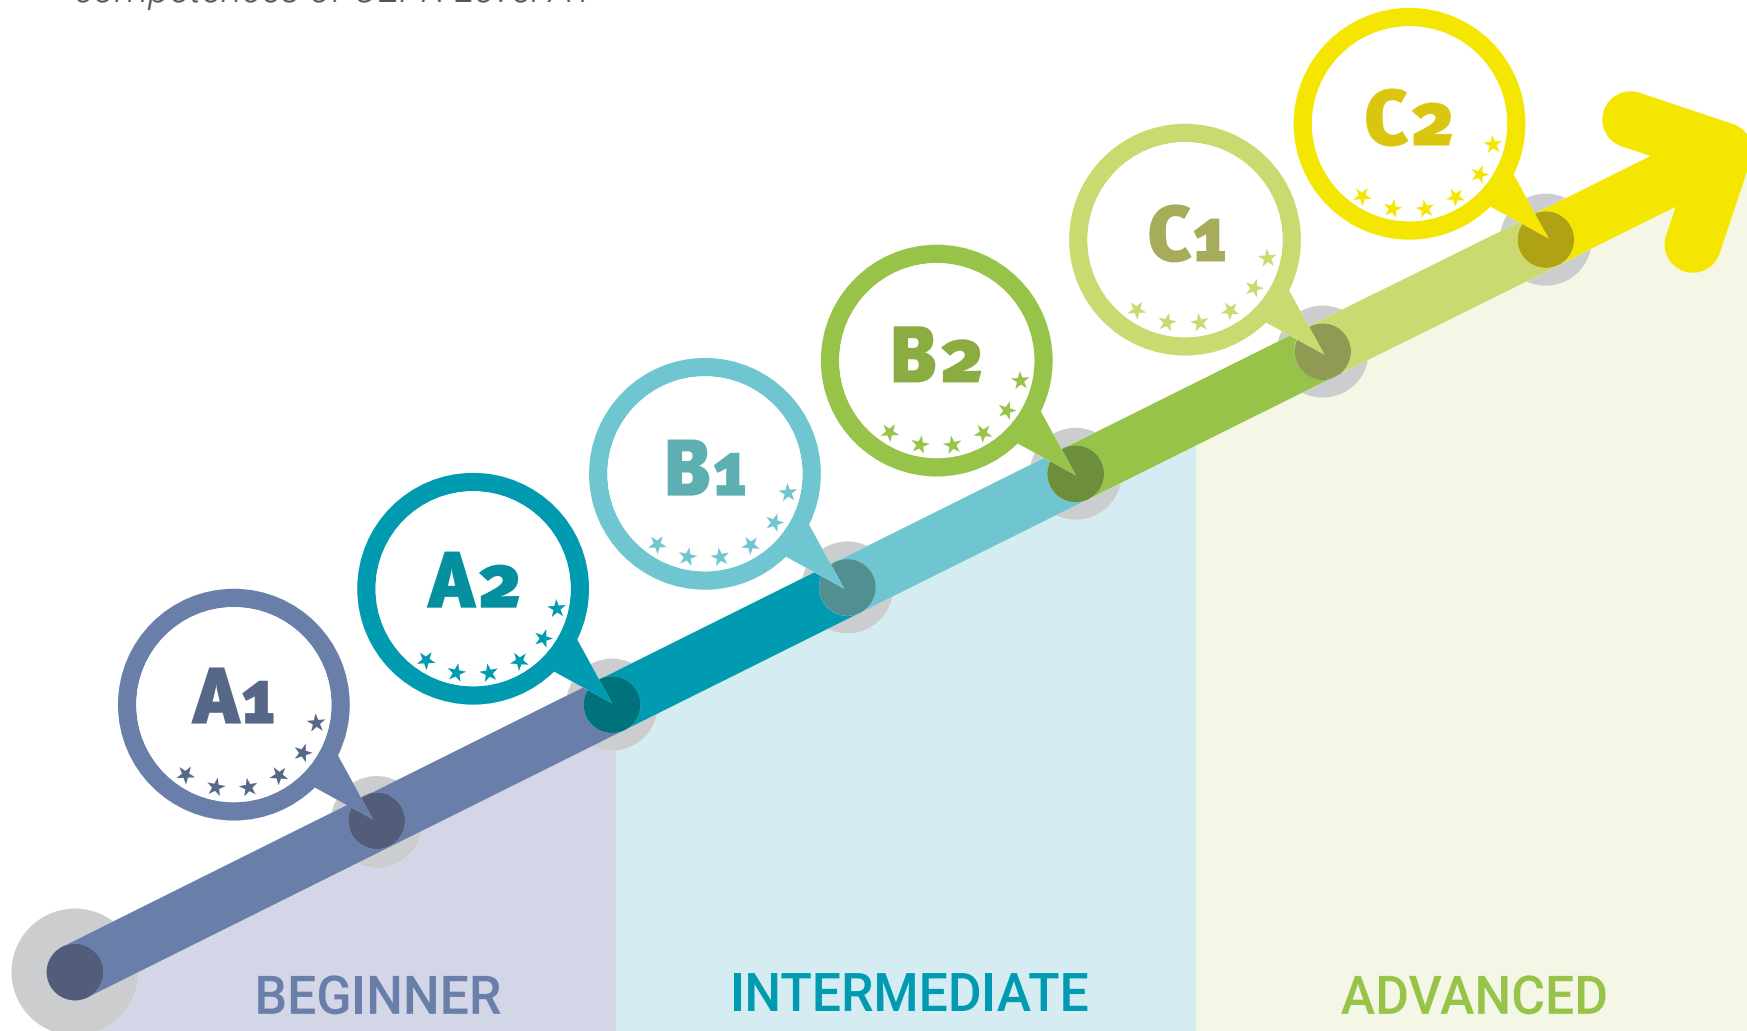

03
What Is Level A1?

One of the purposes of the CEFR is to help users describe the levels of language proficiency required by existing examinations and assessment programs in order to facilitate comparisons between different certification systems. Therefore, these levels are a universal scale used to unify and clarify the different language level evaluation systems.

In this TECH Language Course in A1 Level French, we prepare you thoroughly to obtain your certificate in French"

What are the A1 Level Skills?

Level A1 is part of the Beginner Level, which is divided into two courses: First and Second Beginner Level (A1 and A2). The first course covers the requirements of the A1 level as established by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages, the only system in the European Union for recognizing and accrediting language proficiency and the only diploma that has official validity and is requested by universities, companies, competitive examinations, etc.

01 Understand and use common everyday expressions and simple sentences to satisfy immediate needs

" You will learn the basics of French by enrolling in this 100% online Language Course"

02 Interact in an elementary way as long as the interlocutor speaks slowly and clearly and is willing to cooperate

03 Introduce yourself and others, ask for and give basic personal information about your address, your belongings, and people you know

Level A1 (Access) is considered to be the lowest level of general language use, the point at which learners can interact in a simple way, can ask and answer questions about themselves, about where they live, about the people they know and the things they have, can make simple statements in areas of immediate need or on very everyday topics and can respond to such questions when they are put to them, rather than simply relying on a very limited, rehearsed and lexically organized repertoire of phrases used in specific situations.

TECH helps students to obtain their qualification with an intensive program that is based 100% on the CEFR"

A1 Level Self-Assessment Chart

What will students be able to do after completing the course?

Comprehension

Listening Comprehension

- Recognize very basic, commonly-used words and expressions relating to themselves, their family and their immediate environment when spoken slowly and clearly

Reading Comprehension

- Understand familiar words and names and very simple phrases, e.g., those found on signs, posters, and catalogs

Speaking

Oral Interaction

- Participate in a simple conversation, as long as the other person is willing to repeat what they have said or say it in other words and at a slower speed, and help them formulate what they are trying to say
- Ask and answer simple questions on topics of immediate need or very common issues

Oral Expression

- Use simple expressions and phrases to describe the place where they live and the people they know

Writing

Written Expression

- Write short, simple postcards, e.g., to send greetings.
- Fill in forms with personal data, e.g. name, nationality and address on a hotel registration form

Check your level. Assess yourself through more than 400 multiple-choice questions for continuous evaluation

Qualitative aspects of spoken language usage for Level A1
(According to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages)

What is expected to be achieved with this level?

Scope

- Possess a basic repertoire of simple words and phrases related to personal information and specific situations

Correction

- Showcase limited control of a few simple grammatical structures and sentence patterns within a memorized repertoire

Fluency

- Manage very brief, isolated and prepared expressions, using pauses to search for expressions, articulate less common words and correct communication

Interaction

- Ask and answer questions related to personal data
- Participate in a conversation in a simple way, but communication must be based entirely on repetition, rephrasing and correction of sentences.

Coherence

- Linking words or groups of words with very basic and linear connectors such as "and" and "then"

Download and practice vocabulary: more than 50 pages of lexical cards and glossaries.

- Pre-test activities: Consolidate the concepts developed throughout the syllabus by reiterating them

Skills-Based Practice

If the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages establishes the consolidation of a language through the acquisition of skills and bases its tests on these skills, why don't most of the online preparation courses for the level certificate work according to skills? At TECH, you will work on all the skills established by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages in each of the units through an innovative method that is 100% adapted to European guidelines. In this program we work according to skills, with more than 200 different activities in order to prepare students to obtain their A1 French certificate.

Presentation Videos and Objectives

The only program in which you will find detailed objectives and skills per unit in video format explained by a native teacher.

Summary Videos of Each Unit

At the end of each unit, you will find a video summary in which a native teacher will reiterate and emphasize the most important points.

Simulated Learning Scenarios

At TECH we believe in the importance of linguistic immersion to lay the foundations of a language as well as in storytelling to favor identification and first-person learning. Therefore, we present you with real and everyday situations with people like you who will face a new language and have to overcome all different kinds of problems. In this training program you will find more than 130 everyday situations, stories and video dialogues recorded by experts and native speakers.

Specific Virtual Classes for CEFR A1

Are you ready for the exam? Our native teachers will explain to you all the tips and tricks you can use to pass the course with total guarantee of success, as well as the subjects you need to prepare better, the exercises that appear most frequently, mistakes to avoid, resources that can help you in certain situations, etc. All this prepared on video for you to consult when and as you wish.

Our Methodology

The TECH program is an A1 French Language Course based 100% on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). For this purpose, we use a method in which the student works intensively and repeatedly on all the contents required by the CEFR, thoroughly preparing them to pass the test.

In no other course will you find pre-test knowledge activation questions, lesson tests, grammar tests, a final test and specific practice of CEFR skills in each unit"

The TECH Technological University method

Conventional methods of teaching a second language, such as demonstrative classes or mechanical exercises, slow down learning and seriously affect student motivation, as confirmed by statistical data reflecting the failure of the traditional system and methodology.

TECH's A1 French Language Course offers students a revolutionary method to comprehensively prepare for the level certification test. Our objective is to strengthen your skills in a changing, real and multicultural context and to guarantee your success in passing the test. To this end, we emulate the test using mock tests throughout the course.

Through activities, stories and real contexts, the student will learn how to solve everyday and basic communication situations in simulated learning environments and will face real mock exams to prepare intensively for the level certification test. These simulations are developed using state-of-the-art software to facilitate immersive learning.

...All of this is enhanced with the best 100% online teaching methodology: Relearning...

Our school is the first in the world to combine storytelling with a 100% online learning system based on repetition, which combines different elements that represent an evolution with respect to the simple study and performance of exercises.

TECH offers you the highest quality and quantity in the academic landscape, with hundreds of exercises and resources for you to keep improving your level step by step
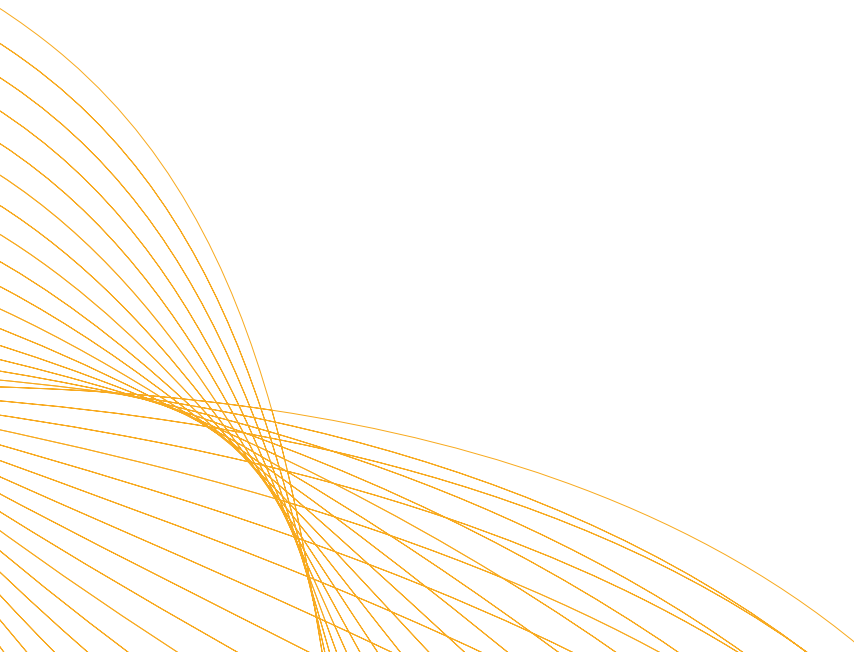

This methodology, at the forefront of world teaching, is called Relearning. Our language school is the first licensed to employ this successful method, having managed, in 2015, to improve the overall satisfaction levels (teaching quality, quality of materials, course structure, objectives, etc.) of the students who complete the courses with respect to the indicators of the best language courses on the market.

The overall score obtained by our learning system is 8.01, according to the highest international standards

08 Competencies testing (retesting)

In this TECH A1 French Language Course, learning is not a linear process, but rather, it is a spiral (we learn, unlearn (forget) and re-learn). Therefore, we combine each of these elements concentrically.

With this methodology, we have trained more than 35,000 university graduates with unprecedented success, in fields as diverse as Biochemistry, Genetics, Surgery, International Law, Management Skills or Financial Markets and Instruments. All this in a highly demanding environment, where the students have a strong socio-economic profile and an average age of 42 years.

...with a personalized and expert-led syllabus...

In order to promote maximum contact with the Language School, we provide you with a tutor so that you can write essays, receive answers to your questions or get advice on how to study.

...and all this with the best learning materials at the forefront of technology and pedagogy...

Our system will allow you to organize your time and learning pace, adapting it to your schedule, and will also allow you to access the contents from any device with an internet connection (computer, tablet, smartphone)"

According to the latest scientific evidence in the field of neuroscience, not only do we know how to organize information, ideas, images, memories, but we know that the place and context where we have learned something is fundamental for us to be able to remember it and store it in the hippocampus and retain it in our long-term memory. This way, and in what is called Neurocognitive Context-Dependent Learning, the different elements of our French A1 Language Course are connected with the context in which the participant will take their certification exam in order to guarantee success on the day of the test.

Course Objectives

The A1 French Language Course has been designed to help students acquire the skills required to take the exam that certifies their level. They will be able to pass it through practice, training, repetition and personalized monitoring, and also thanks to their effort and the pedagogical excellence of the TECH method. At the end of the program, the student will be able to certify their A1 Level and continue to advance in the study of the language.
" Practice the speaking skills and abilities required by the A1 CEFR: more than 240 different practice exercises"

General Objectives

01 Solve simple communicative tasks and perform the basic functions of these tasks, both in an educational environment and in everyday situations

02 Interact and express themselves in these situations in an incipient but adequate manner, in a standard oral and written language register

03 Define the most relevant social aspects of everyday life situations and recognize the most common forms of social relationships

04 Use the linguistic resources necessary to get by in basic communication situations

05 Develop resources and tools that enable them to assess and improve their own learning and use of the language

Specific Objectives

Oral Comprehension

- Understand speech that is very slow, carefully articulated and with enough pauses to assimilate the meaning

- Understand instructions that are explained slowly and carefully, and be able to follow directions if they are simple and short

Reading Comprehension

- Understand very short and simple texts, reading sentence by sentence, picking up basic and common names, words and phrases, and rereading as needed

- Understand short and simple messages on postcards

- Recognize names, words and very basic phrases that appear on signs and in the most common situations

- Understand the meaning of simple informative written material and short and simple descriptions, especially if there is visual support

- Understand written directions if they are short and simple (e.g., how to get from one place to another)

Written Expression

- Ask for and provide information about personal details in writing

- Write short and simple postcards

- Write numbers and dates, their name, nationality, address, age, date of birth or date of arrival in a country, as is done, for example, in a hotel registration book

Oral Expression

- Engage in conversations in a straightforward manner, but communication is totally dependent on slower-paced repetitions, rephrasing and rectifications

- Ask and answer simple questions, make simple statements, and respond to statements made to them in areas of immediate need or on very everyday topics

- Introduce oneself and use basic greetings and farewell expressions

- Ask how people are doing and express their reactions to the news

- Understand everyday expressions aimed at satisfying simple and concrete needs provided that the speaker collaborates by addressing them in clear, slow speech and repeats what they do not understand

- Understand questions and instructions if spoken slowly and carefully, and understand short, simple directions on how to get to a place

- Ask someone for something, and vice versa

- Have a good command of numbers, quantities, prices and schedules

- Make time indications by means of sentences such as, for example, "next week, last Friday, in November, at three o'clock"

- Respond in an interview to simple and direct questions about personal data, if spoken very slowly and clearly without idioms or set phrases

Specific Objectives

Sociocultural and Sociolinguistic Competence

- Become familiar with the most relevant social aspects of everyday life situations, as well as with those related to their own field, which will result in the basic adaptation of their behavior to these situations and in the understanding or adequate use of the lexicon and functional exponents

- Recognize and use the most common forms of social relations and treatment, within a standard register. In regular social situations, recognize and use the usual forms of address used to greet, say goodbye, address someone, give thanks, apologize, ask permission, take an interest in people and respond to an offer

- Understand the behaviors and values that are different from one's own and that underlie the most evident and everyday socio-cultural aspects

Linguistic Competence

- Manage a basic repertoire of vocabulary and expressions related to the most common situations and functions foreseen in the syllabus

- Develop a very limited control of linguistic resources, with systematic errors that usually occur at this level

Did you know?

Communicative competence is not merely limited to the knowledge and ability to use the linguistic code, but also has other broader dimensions, which place it in direct relation with other competences such as information processing and digital competence, learning to learn, social and civic competence, or cultural and artistic competence.

This implies a cultural immersion that is only possible to recreate in the online format through simulated scenarios, storytelling, videos and real situations.

The syllabus can be downloaded in convenient PDFs that add up to more than 400 pages of content"

Only TECH offers videos with the 130 specific situations required to master the CEFR A1

Course Structure and Content

In providing students with the best possible resources, TECH has created this Language Course with the latest educational technology and the most efficient teaching methodology in the academic world. By using relearning, students obtain maximum efficiency and profitability for the hours invested in the entire program. Furthermore, all the content has been carefully prepared and reviewed by a team of native teachers who are experts in the field, which guarantees the highest quality.

Where, When and How is it Taught?

"TECH has the broadest and most complete syllabus on the market which includes the 44 specific topics required by the CEFR for A1"

"As an art student, the pictorial movements of France always caught my attention. After giving it a lot of thought, I decided to take the plunge and start studying French in order to continue my studies at a French university in the future. I found TECH to be the best option to learn the language, as it allows me to do it from home without having to travel"

Teresa Contreras

" As I wanted to orient my career towards the tourism sector, it was logical for me to learn French, since it is the country that receives the most tourists from all over the world. With TECH's Language Courses I have been gradually improving my level and right now I have a B1 level and I'm looking forward to starting B2"

Our Students' Profiles

We know that learning a language isn't easy. Many of us have tried, and failed, for years to consolidate our knowledge and acquire the skills required to obtain qualifications that demonstrate what we have learned. Level exams are complex tests that must be prepared for thoroughly and with good expert guidance.
" Many of our students have previously tried other preparation methods that have led them to lose motivation. At TECH, 9 out of 10 students recommend us"

The Professional Benefits of French

French is both a working language and an language of the UN, the European Union, UNESCO, NATO, the International Olympic Committee, the International Red Cross and various other international legal bodies. French is the language of the three cities where the European institutions are located: Strasbourg, Brussels and Luxembourg.

Together with English, it is the only language spoken across the 5 continents and the only language which can be learned in all countries worldwide. According to the Observatoire de la langue Française, a French language control organization, around 220 million people speak French which puts it in 8th place on the list of most-spoken languages on the planet. The Francophonie groups together 68 states and governments. French is the most studied foreign language after English.

Speaking French opens up more possibilities for individuals in the international labor market. Knowledge of French opens doors to French companies in France and abroad, in all francophone countries (Canada, Switzerland, Belgium, Africa). France, the fifth largest trading power and the third largest destination country for foreign investors, is a major economic partner.

Furthermore, speaking French allows you to study in France, in prestigious universities or in higher education business and engineering schools, ranked among the best higher teaching centers in Europe and worldwide. Students who are proficient in French can receive scholarships from the French Government to study a third year of their degree in France in all disciplines, and earn an internationally recognized diploma.

French is an international language for food, fashion, theater, visual arts, dance and architecture. Knowing French gives you access to the original versions of the most famous texts in French and Francophone literature, as well as cinema and music"

Assessment
and Certification

TECH'S main assessment objective is for students to consolidate what they have learned and be are aware of their progress. That is why, after completing each block, students are shown a results report that visually indicates the skills they should reinforce in the online classes.

TECH'S A1 Language Course is the only one that also awards you with a university certificate"
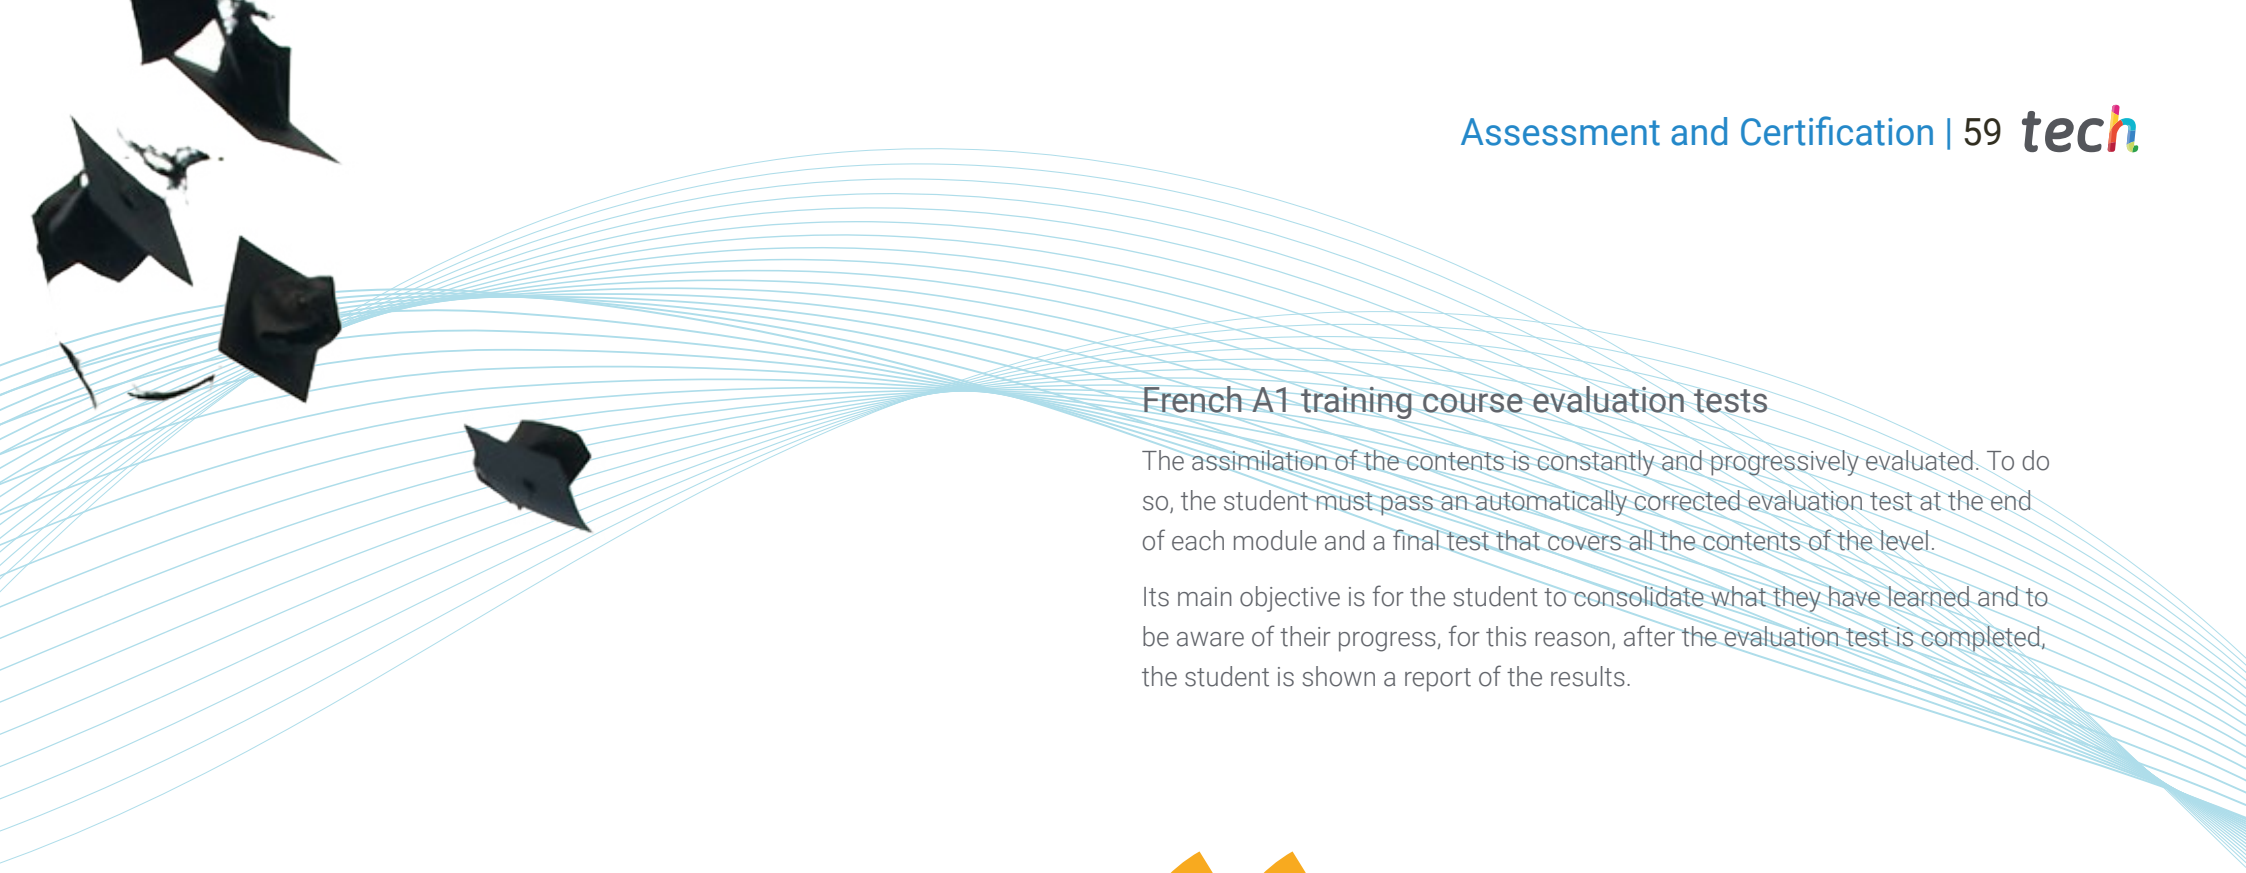

French A1 training course evaluation tests

The assimilation of the contents is constantly and progressively evaluated. To do so, the student must pass an automatically corrected evaluation test at the end of each module and a final test that covers all the contents of the level.

Its main objective is for the student to consolidate what they have learned and to be aware of their progress, for this reason, after the evaluation test is completed, the student is shown a report of the results.

Only TECH will award students, upon successful completion of the course, a university certificate"

Training course evaluation criteria

- Communicative effectiveness: comprehensibility, fulfillment of expected functions, accuracy, sociolinguistic appropriateness

- Interactive and speaking skills: responsiveness and cooperation, coherence of ideas, organization, relevant and sufficient development

- Use of language: linguistic resources, formal elements of cohesion and fluency

- Formal correction: grammar, discourse cohesion, vocabulary and pronunciation

If you pass our course, you will obtain an A1 French language qualification from TECH

The certificate, which indicates successful completion of the course, will state the language studied and the level passed, according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR).

The certificate issued by TECH Technological University only provides "pass" or "fail" as grading options, and does not express a numerical grade. Before receiving the certificate, you will be emailed a form to verify your data.

The CEFR A1 French Language Course is an intensive course lasting a maximum of 4 months

Certification

Upon completion of the course, the student will receive a certificate of recognition that will guarantee their preparation to obtain, if the student wishes, the certification of that level.
