It is not surprising, therefore, that this is one of the most effective languages when it comes to accessing better professional opportunities. But, a lot of the time, in order to access these opportunities it is necessary to have an accreditation of your level. Therefore, this university test allows students to certify the A1 level of Chinese according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages. All of this is a comfortable and flexible way and completely adapted to their needs.

A differential ability that will help you take the lead in professional opportunities in diverse contexts.

Certifying your Level A1 Chinese will help you to take your career even further. You will be able to access more substantial opportunities both on a national as well as international level.

Thinking of you and your needs, TECH has created a revolutionary certification system that will allow you to decide when and where to take your level test, comfortably and without waiting or having to travel.

tech 10 | Why Is it Important to Obtain A1 Certificate?

TECH Technological University

The Common European Framework of Reference for Languages is the only officially recognized and accredited system for assessing a student's level of proficiency. It is the most prestigious and widely accepted method of language accreditation in the world, allowing you to apply for all kinds of academic, personal or professional opportunities in any country in the world, both in the private and public sector. Thus, the CEFR is of great reference in terms of language certificate, so passing this Level A1 Chinese exam with TECH is the best decision a student can make.

What is the difference between you and other candidates? Your level of Chinese and your accreditation according to CEFR”

03

your language skills in line with Level A1 Chinese”*

What are the A1 Level Skills?

Level A1 (Access) is considered to be the lowest level of general language use, the point at which learners can interact in a simple way, can ask and answer questions about themselves, about where they live, about the people they know and the things they have, can make simple statements in areas of immediate need or on very everyday topics and can respond to such questions when they are put to them, rather than simply relying on a very limited, rehearsed and lexically organized repertoire of phrases used in specific situations.

At this level, as defined by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages, students progress in language skills to develop what are considered "Basic User" skills with the ability to:

You have a unique opportunity to accredit your basic level of Chinese thanks to the flexibility and prestige of TECH's academic method”

01

Understand and use common everyday expressions and simple sentences to satisfy immediate needs

02

Interact in an elementary way as long as the interlocutor speaks slowly and clearly and is willing to cooperate

03

Introduce yourself and others, ask for and give basic personal information about your address, your belongings, and people you know

At TECH you can take your exam from home, with a personal tutor and with all the guarantees of a 100% CEFR certificate”

Knowing the nature of the test before you take it will facilitate optimal preparation"

Structure of the Level A1 Chinese exam

It consists of 4 parts:

Listening, Speaking, Reading and Writing.

The total duration of the exam is 90 to 135 minutes, with the first three parts taking place one after the other (1st Listening, 2nd Writing, 3rd Reading). There will be a minimum of 20 minutes of rest between the first three parts and the 4th part (Speaking), which can be done on the same day, or on a different day, with a maximum limit of 7 days after the other block has been completed.

Listening (Duration 30-40 minutes)

The listening exam consists of 2-4 exercises, each of which is based on an audio recording that can be a monologue or a conversation between 2 or more people. Exercises include multiple choice, sentence completion, completion of charts, graphs or diagrams, and short answers in one or two sentences.

Example reading comprehension task

Identify the situation and/or main idea. Type of text: series of five short independent monologues or dialogues, for example: adverts, messages, short conversations, etc. Type of task: the students must choose the correct image from the three options provided to them.

Reading (Duration: 30-40 minutes)

It consists of 40 questions grouped in 3 sections. Each text is 100-150 words long and several questions are asked about it. The texts are basic and fictional, and have been specially designed for the test. The type of questions, as in the oral part, vary widely: multiple choice, completing tables, graphs or diagrams, or locating information in the text.

Example of reading comprehension

Find predictable factual information in texts such as signs, advertisements, schedules, menus with some visual support. Type of text: signs, advertisements, etc. on an everyday topic with visual support. Type of task: multiple choice based on short texts that focus on certain information. The correct answer must be chosen.

Writing (Duration: 30-40 minutes)

This part consists of two short essay exercises between 30-60 words. Usually a piece of information is presented very briefly (a couple of lines), followed by a statement about it, and then the candidate is asked to explain whether they agree or disagree with the statement, briefly stating the necessary arguments.

Speaking (Duration: 10-15 minutes)

In this last part, a conversation is held with an examiner, and it is designed to be as realistic as possible. It is divided into 2 parts. In the first, the candidate responds to personal, family and/or everyday questions. In the second, the examiner and the candidate hold a basic conversation on a specific topic, where oral interaction and discussion skills are assessed. The entire speaking part is recorded for later review purposes.
