01 Welcome

German is a reference language in Europe. Not only is it the language with the most native speakers in Western Europe, but it also has great economic and political weight, as Germany is the most important country in the European Union and the country is a global industrial power. Thus, being able to improve the German Level to A2 for accreditation can later open the door to numerous professional, academic and personal opportunities. This university program offers students 40 sessions of online group conversation classes, with the guidance and interaction of native teachers and the opportunity to have their level certified by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR).

Presentation video

02

Is it Important to Obtain a Language Certificate?

The certification of languages is essential these days. It is required in labor and administrative processes, for obtaining scholarships, for access to academic exchange programs and adds many points when applying for jobs and in competitive public service examinations. For that reason, the best path to success is to accredit your language level, and this university program prepares the student to pass the oral test of the CEFR Level A2 German a system of language recognition valid throughout the world.

This university program will enable you to master all the competencies of Level A2 in German, according to the CEFR linguistic bases. You will be able to pass your oral exam with ease at the end of this program"

TECH Technological University

The Common European Framework of Reference for Languages is the only recognized and accredited system for assessing a student's level of proficiency. Although there are other certification systems, these come from private institutions and are, therefore, not valid. The CEFR establishes a single criterion to determine the difficulty of the courses and awards diplomas that are recognized throughout the European Union.

At TECH Technological University, we offer you the only intensive program to improve your spoken proficiency in order to guarantee that you will obtain your level certificate based 100% on the CEFR, the only system recognized and accepted in all of Europe.

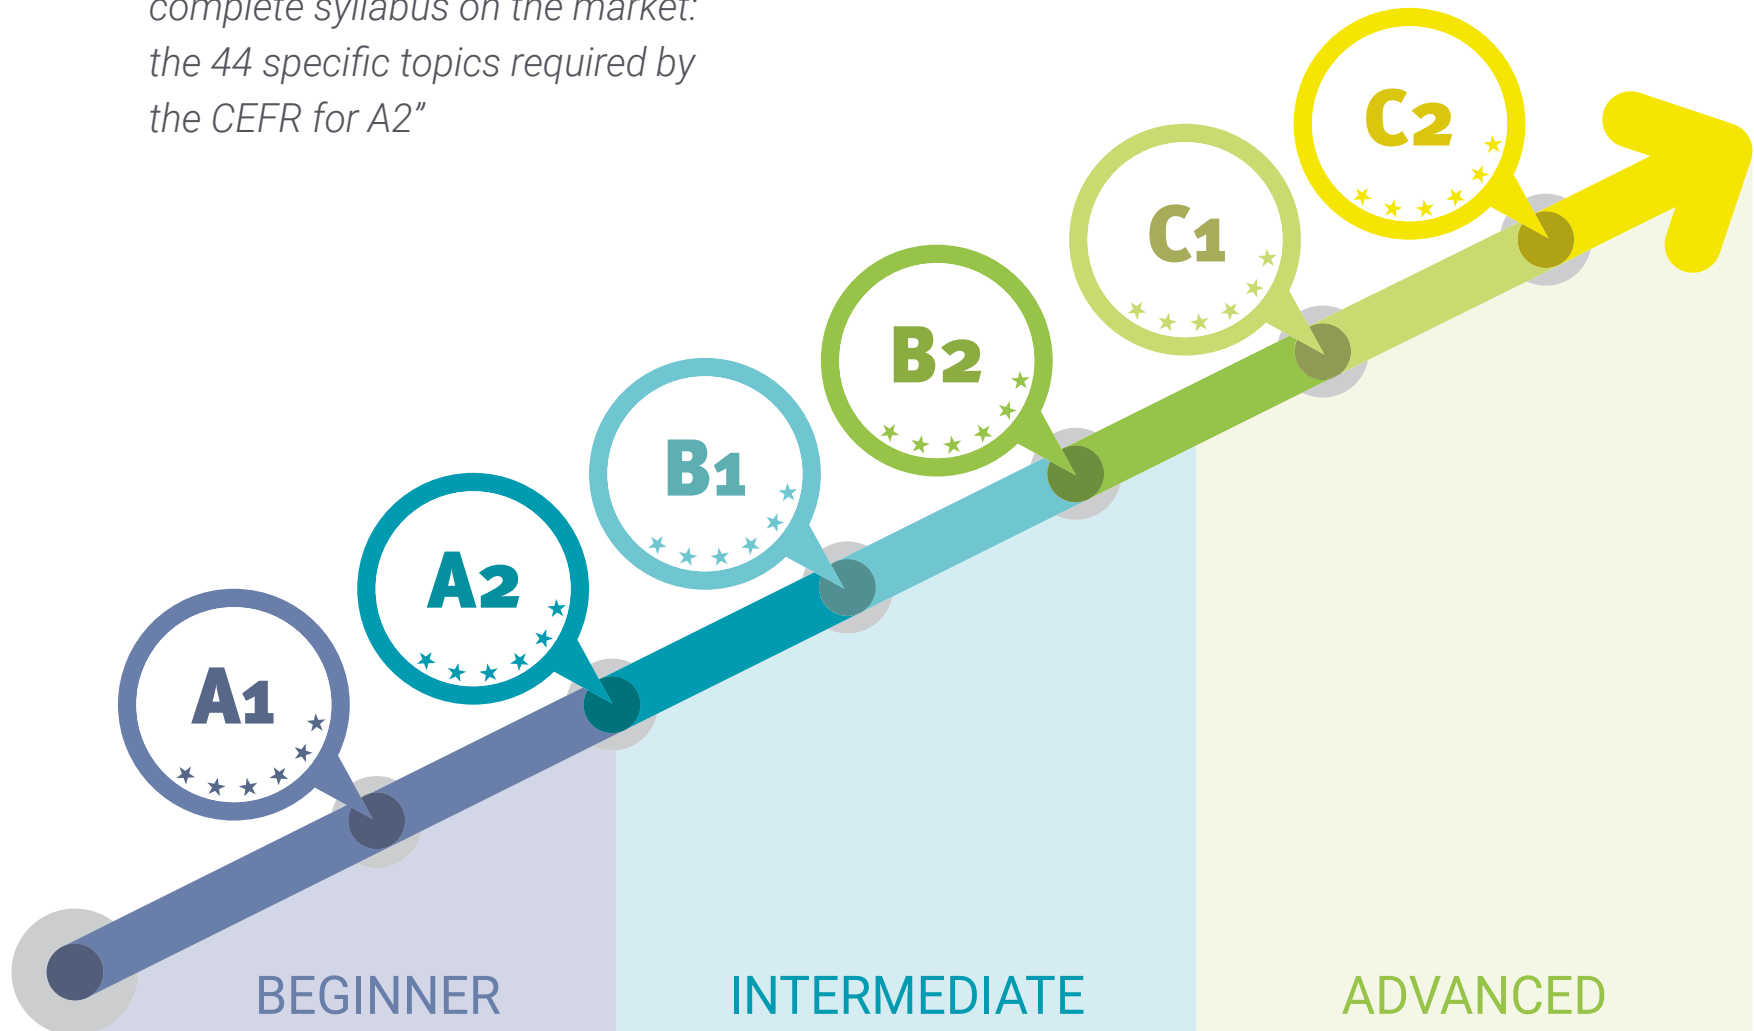

The basis for the success of this program is its practical impact: enroll and start speaking German immediately, without any detours.

This university program will allow you to learn German in 40 sessions spread over 4 months.

This preparation program is based on the most comprehensive and complete syllabus on the market: the 44 specific topics required by the CEFR for A2”

03

What Is Level A2?

Level A2 is part of basic User Level, which is divided into two sublevels: First and Second Basic User Level (A1 and A2).

This level includes most of the descriptors that expose social functions, such as: knowing how to use the usual forms of greeting and addressing others politely; greeting people, asking how they are and being able to react to news; getting along well in very brief social exchanges; knowing how to ask and answer questions about what they do at work and in their free time; knowing how to make an invitation and respond to it; discussing what to do, where to go and preparing for an appointment; being able to make an offer and accept it.

Here you will also find descriptors on how to function in social life: being able to carry out simple transactions in stores, post offices or banks; knowing how to get simple travel information; using public transport (buses, trains and cabs); asking for basic information, asking and explaining how to get to a place and buys tickets; ordering and providing everyday goods and services.

All the most essential German vocabulary and forms of expression will be at your fingertips with this language program”

What are the A2 Level Skills?

At this level, as defined by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages, students progress in language skills to develop what are considered "Basic User" skills with the ability to:

01

Can understand sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of experience that are particularly relevant to him/her (basic information about him/herself and his/her family, shopping, places of interest, occupations, etc.)

Certify your A2 level of German in a fast and simple way, thanks to this program which is focused on the spoken aspects of the language”

02

Can communicate in simple, everyday tasks that require only simple and direct exchanges of information on familiar or routine matters

03

Can describe in simple terms aspects of his/her background and environment, as well as issues related to his/her immediate needs

A2 level Self-Assessment Chart

What will I be able to do after completing the course?

Comprehension

Listening

- ♦ Understand sentences and the most common vocabulary on topics of personal interest (very basic personal and family information, shopping, place of residence, employment)
- ♦ Capture the main idea of short, clear and simple messages and notices

Speaking

Oral Interaction

- ♦ Communicate simple and routine tasks that require a simple and direct exchange of information about daily activities and issues
- ♦ Realize very brief social exchanges, but usually unable to understand enough to carry on the conversation on their own

Oral Expression

- ♦ Use a series of expressions and phrases to describe in simple terms your family and other people, your living conditions, your educational background, and your current or most recent job

Prepare yourself, in an intensive way, to pass the CEFR German Level A2 accreditation exam and gain access to numerous professional and academic opportunities in this exciting European country"

More than 100 different activities are waiting for you to improve your fluency in German, as well as your speaking, listening and pronunciation skills.

Qualitative aspects of spoken language usage for Level A2

(According to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages)

What is expected to be achieved with this level?

Scope

- ♦ Use structures composed of basic sentences with expressions, groups of a few words and memorized formulas, in order to communicate limited information in simple, everyday situations

Correction

- ♦ Use some simple structures correctly, but still consistently making basic mistakes

Fluency

- ♦ Make oneself understood with very brief expressions, although pauses, initial doubts and rephrasing are very evident

Interaction

- ♦ Be able to answer questions and respond to simple statements
- ♦ Indicate when a conversation is understood, but barely understands enough to carry on a conversation of their own accord

Coherence

- ♦ Link groups of words with simple connectors

Download and practice vocabulary: more than 50 pages of lexical cards and glossaries at your disposal.

Skills-based Practice

If the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages establishes the consolidation of a language through the acquisition of skills and bases its official tests on these skills, why don't most of the online preparation courses for the level certificate work according to skills? In TECH you will work on all the oral skills established by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages in each of the subjects through an innovative method that is 100% adapted to European guidelines. In this training program, we work according to skills, with more than 100 different activities in order to prepare students to obtain their German A2 certificate.

Simulated Learning Scenarios

At TECH, we believe in the importance of linguistic immersion to lay the foundations of a language as , well as in storytelling to favor identification and first-person learning. Therefore, we present you with real and everyday situations with people like you who will face a new language and have to overcome all different kinds of problems. In this training we will expose you to real dialogues and conversation exercises designed and presented by experts and native speakers.

Specific Virtual Classes for CEFR A2

Are you ready for the exam? Our native teachers will explain to you all the tips and tricks you can use to pass the course with total guarantee of success, as well as the subjects you need to prepare better, the exercises that appear most frequently, mistakes to avoid, resources that can help you in certain situations, etc. All this prepared on video for you to consult when and as you wish.

Take the sessions with you on your cell phone and view them wherever you want!

Do you want to revisit the class afterwards and review where you made mistakes or how a word was pronounced? Download the recorded session and watch it again.

An interactive chat to share queries, expressions, complex words, etc. in writing.

In addition:

The student will be provided with the following interaction and communication tools that will be combined throughout the course to obtain the competencies at the level in question.

These are:

- Internal messaging tools with teachers and tutors
- Chat tools for written interaction
- Discussion forums for the development of written expression and interaction skills
- Telephone assistance to resolve technical questions or incidents
- Technical services contact e-mail

Our Methodology

Practice is key. TECH's teaching methodology focuses on this important aspect, and allows the student to develop German skills in an interactive way, participating in online classes with small groups and enjoying the accompaniment of a native teacher. In this way, following this dynamic, the student will be able to learn intensively, through the Relearning method, all the keys to German Level A2 of the CEFR.

In no other course will you work at your own pace, with native teachers, in small groups based on specific practice of the CEFR skills in each session”

Conventional methods of teaching a second language, such as demonstrative classes or mechanical exercises, slow down learning and seriously affect student motivation, as confirmed by statistical data reflecting the failure of the traditional system and methodology.

TECH's German A2 Conversation Classes program offers you a method based on interaction and synchronous and direct communication between teacher and student to provide you with comprehensive preparation for the oral level certification test. Our objective is to strengthen your skills in a changing, real, multicultural context and to guarantee your success in passing the test. To this end, we emulate the official test using mock tests throughout the course.

The student will learn through activities, stories and real contexts, the resolution of everyday and basic communication situations in simulated learning environments and will face real mock exams to prepare intensively, for the level certification test.

...All of this is enhanced with the best 100% online teaching methodology: Relearning...

Our school is the first in the world to combine storytelling with a 100% online learning system based on repetition, which combines different elements that represent an evolution with respect to the simple study and performance of exercises.

TECH offers you the highest quality and quantity in the academic landscape, with hundreds of exercises and resources for you to keep improving your level step by step.

This methodology, at the forefront of world teaching, is called Relearning. Our language school is the first licensed to employ this successful method, having managed in 2015 to improve the overall satisfaction levels (teaching quality, quality of materials, course structure, objectives, etc. of the students who complete the courses , with respect to the indicators of the best language courses on the market.

The overall score obtained by our learning system is 8.01, according to the highest international standards.

Relearning Methodology

We prevent your motivation from waning and offer you the best learning environment.

TECH's intensive oral proficiency preparation program is based on synchronous, real-time communication, as this type of interaction has been proven to enhance personal involvement, work interaction, social-emotional relationships and personal interactions, increasing motivation. (Hrastinski, 2008).

*...with a , personalized and expert-led

In order to facilitate tutor-student contact as much as possible, you will have a wide range of communication possibilities, both in real time and delayed (internal messaging, telephone answering service, e-mail contact with the technical secretary and chat).

Our system will allow you to organize your time and learning pace, adapting it to your schedule, and will also allow you to access the contents from any device with an internet connection (computer, tablet, smartphone)”

According to the latest scientific evidence in the field of neuroscience, not only do we know how to organize information, ideas, images, memories, but we know that the place and context where we have learned something is fundamental for us to be able to remember it and store it in the hippocampus and retain it in our long-term memory. In this way, and in what is called “Neurocognitive context-dependent learning”, the different elements of our intensive German A2 Conversation Classes program are connected to the context in which the participant will take their official certification exam in order to guarantee success on the day of the test.

Course Objectives

The main objective of this Online Group Language Classes program is to help the student to perform in a basic and elementary way in the oral expression and comprehension of German. Thus, at the same time that you improve in this language, you will be prepared to pass the oral test of Level A2 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages, which will open the doors to obtain a certificate of great value for different professional and academic processes.

You will improve your German level in a comfortable and fast way with this group conversation program"

General Objectives

01

Use the language learned as a means of communication and personal expression, both in class and in everyday situations, whether face-to-face or virtual

02

Understand, interact and express oneself in a simple, but appropriate and effective way in these situations orally

03

Approach the most relevant social aspects of everyday life situations and use the most usual forms of social relations and treatment

04

Use the linguistic resources necessary to get by in these situations

05

Strengthen the learner's initial motivation, looking for opportunities to use the new language, including those offered by the new information and communication technologies

06

Acquire tools that enable the student to assess and improve their own learning and use of the language

Specific Objectives

Listening

- Understand enough to be able to deal with specific needs as long as the speech is articulated clearly and at a slow pace
- Understand sentences and expressions related to areas of immediate priority (e.g., very basic personal and family information, shopping, place of residence, employment) provided speech is articulated clearly and slowly
- Generally identify the topic being discussed, provided it is conducted slowly and clearly
- Capture the main idea of short, clear and simple messages and statements
- Understand simple instructions on how to get from one place to another, both on foot and by public transportation
- Understand and extract essential information from short recorded passages dealing with everyday, predictable matters and spoken slowly and clearly

The best way to learn is through practice: TECH offers you group conversation classes and high level native teachers to help you reach the level of German you need.

Oral Expression

- Give a simple description or presentation of people, living or working conditions, daily activities, likes and dislikes in a short list of simple phrases and sentences
- Tell stories or describe something through a simple relationship of elements. Describe everyday aspects of their environment; for example, people, places, a work or study
- Give brief and basic descriptions of events and activities. Describe plans and appointments, customs, usual or past activities and personal experiences
- Use simple, descriptive language to make brief statements about objects and possessions, and to make comparisons. Explain what they like and dislike about something
- Deliver rehearsed, very brief statements of predictable, learned content that are intelligible to listeners who are willing to concentrate
- Deliver brief, rehearsed presentations on topics that are of importance in everyday life and briefly offer reasons and explanations for expressing certain opinions, plans, and actions
- Answer a limited number of questions with immediate and simple answers

Sociocultural and Sociolinguistic Competence

- Learn the sociocultural aspects and social conventions that have the greatest impact on daily life, as well as those related to one's own field, in order to translate them into behavior and communication
- Recognize and use the most common forms of greeting, courtesy, and treatment. Use, in general, a standard language register of basic but careful formality and informality. Recognize some very frequent colloquial expressions, as well as elementary cultural references related to everyday life
- Understand gestures, behaviors and values that are different from one's own and that underlie the most obvious, everyday socio-cultural aspects

Linguistic Competence

- Achieve a sufficient repertoire of linguistic exponents for the functions of the level and use correctly the "formulas" and structures learned
- In language construction, achieving limited control, with the possible systematic errors of the level
- Pronounce clearly and understandably even if a foreign accent is evident
- Write with correct spelling the common language worked on

In order to consolidate all these skills you will study more than 40 sessions designed by expert teachers and based 100% on the CEFR”

Did you know?

Communicative competence is not merely limited to the knowledge and ability to use the linguistic code, but has other broader dimensions, which place it in direct relation with other competences such as information processing and digital competence, learning to learn, social and civic competence, or cultural and artistic competence.

This implies a cultural immersion that is only possible through direct and continuous interaction with native speakers and real conversational situations.

Enroll and observe how TECH helps you to improve your level of German in a quick and fluid way.

Course Structure and Content

During this university program, the student will share a lesson with other students with similar affinities, being a joint experience that allows the student to practice both comprehension and oral expression. The lessons are adapted to each individual group, dealing with daily situations such as a visit to the doctor or to a shopping mall. The teaching staff will give you the keys and necessary advice to help you pass the A2 level with skill.

The teaching team in charge of this university program will adapt the contents and lessons to the group's own interests. In this way, students are able to maximize their oral skills in matters such as a visit to a hospital or shopping in a mall. The intervention of the teaching team to polish the different errors, in addition to the multiple possibilities of intervention, will significantly improve both the student's listening comprehension and oral expression skills.

Where, When and How is it Taught?

This course takes place over 4 months and consists of 40 60-minute live sessions taught by native-speaking teachers.

Each session is structured as follows:

- ◆ Practice of oral interaction skills
- ◆ Practice of oral expression skills
- ◆ Simulation of real situations
- ◆ Tips and tricks to prepare for the test
- ◆ Summary and closing
- ◆ Download printable sheets

You will be in a group with other students who share your objectives and interests, giving you the an advantage in mastering the A2 level”

A2 Level Learning Objectives

In each program, native teachers prepare a series of items that students must overcome in order to satisfactorily reach the course goals. Thanks to personalized tutoring, all the proposed objectives can be achieved in the shortest time possible, thanks to effective and efficient teaching.

- Helping to learn the language from scratch, polishing common mistakes and offering methods to become more fluent in speech
- Master the use of new basic words to develop conversations in different contexts
- Assimilate grammatical rules and listening comprehension with a personalized approach to the needs of each student
- Focus on everyday issues, such as individual presentations, family, work, travel or daily routine
- Enable the student to initiate and maintain a simple conversation on their own, making use of the most common language

You will focus your practice to exceed by far the CEFR Level A2”

My goal was to study in Cologne. It is my favorite city. I fell in love with it when I traveled there at the age of 16. This program helped me to improve and certify my level. I have already made a lot of progress and I am now at Level B2. I have stayed with TECH because they are the best at teaching languages. I recommend their method to everyone.

The Professional Benefits of German

German is the ninth most spoken language in the world. It is spoken in countries such as Switzerland, Austria, Luxembourg, Belgium and also in other parts of the world in small communities.

There is no doubt that the main reason to learn German is for work. Austria has the lowest unemployment rate of the Eurozone countries; Switzerland is one of the richest countries with the best working conditions; the engine of Europe, Germany, offers great job opportunities to anyone who wants to work, but a good command of German is a prerequisite to work in these countries. Many have tried their luck and emigrated from their home countries in search of work, but doing it without knowing German is not particularly easy.

Learning German may be just what you need to develop your career. Knowing this will also make it easier to create or maintain working relationships with German-speaking partners from your country and will certainly help to strengthen ties and close business deals. It is also worth bearing in mind that German is the native language of one of the world's major exporting countries, and having a good command of this language allows you to perform better in business and instill greater confidence in working relationships.

Additionally, German is the second most important language for the sciences and Germany is the third most important country for its contribution to research and development. Germany awards a large number of research grants to foreign scientists and almost 20% of the world's books are written in German.

German is the native language of one of the world's major exporting countries, and having a good command of this language allows you to perform better in business”

11

Assessment and Certification

The main evaluation objective in TECH is that the student consolidates what they have learned and is aware of their progress. For this reason, after completing each block, the student is shown a report of the results, which visually indicates the skills that they should strengthen.

TECH'S A2 level oral communication skills preparation program is the only one that also awards you with a university certificate”

Certification

Upon completion of the course, the student will receive a certificate of recognition that will guarantee their preparation to obtain, if the student wishes, the certification of that level.
